These choices (college, career, student loans, credit card use, saving & budgeting, internet & social media, cost of living, etc.) will become the scaffolding of their financial future. It is important that each choice is made with individual insight, thought and knowledge. This is an extremely condensed version of the 12-week course – Foundations in Personal Finance – High School and Beyond.

This class will enhance your student's overall learning to not only prepare them for college but to do well in all their classes and state required testing. In addition, your students' grades will have a major impact upon applying for scholarships. Prepare your students for these tests during their sophomore, junior and senior year of high school.
